

Daily Observation/Mindset/Notes

By bwinvests · December 17, 2020

TL;DR

Today's market showed slower activity with minimal movement in my portfolio. Notably, Tesla's inclusion in the S&P 500 is anticipated on December 21st, while I also executed trades on XRP and Sundial Growers, monitoring key profit levels.

Today was a slower day in the market from the looks of it, as far as my portfolio, volume, but not much movement. Tesla's upcoming inclusion in the S&P500 is scheduled for December 21st, but may take effect, December 18th. Take profit of 627 is being hit, may exit trade or take profit at 788 which is the next take profit area, will be watching closing over the next 24-48hrs. Entered an OTE on XRP @.44 has peaked today at .56, proud of the execution, with the assistance of alerts. As well as Sundial Growers on Webull seeking exit at $1 or $1.50.

FAQ

What was the market activity like today?

The market was slower today, with low volume and minimal movement in my portfolio.

When is Tesla being included in the S&P 500?

Tesla's inclusion in the S&P 500 is scheduled for December 21st, but it may take effect as early as December 18th.

What are the take profit levels mentioned?

The take profit level for Tesla is set at 627, with a potential exit at 788 if the market conditions are favorable.

What trade was executed on XRP?

An OTE trade was entered on XRP at 0.44, which peaked at 0.56 today.

What is the exit strategy for Sundial Growers?

The exit strategy for Sundial Growers is to seek profits at either $1 or $1.50.