First attempt was a very good setup but since it happened 5 times last week and I didnt take any of them, naturally I took this one being the least likely to work.

Why I should have not traded after the first attempt.

1. Massive fakeout right at open where we tap PML and rip higher immediately breaking 15ema and closing above it then having 2 massive 2m candles to confirm that breakout.
2. VOLD ADD held 10:00op ever since it was formed
3. big data week means timing will be nearly impossible
4. ES NQ bost above OP while YM RTY below
5. Second attempt was pure fomo/annoyance that I lost on the first one
