How could I have improved?

- I really should not have left my computer so early. I did have obligations to attend to and Idk if I wouldve been able to trade anyways but I definitely think I called it a little too fast. There was a clean lower high right after my 2 trades that were sooo beautiful and I just avoided them because the second I made money I was ready to leave and do my other errands. Gotta get away from that mindset and really just let my system do its job with me as its vehicle of discretion.
