sketchy day with CPI tomorrow and PPI today with JP talking at 10. Lots of nasty conflicting price action, Shouldve broken down a lot earlier and mag7 really came in to save the day on its late day huge breakout which helped the indices break the PDH. In terms of my trading I did well. Took a few early losses then got a nice short for about 10 points but was unable to add into it then held a partial back the whole way to breakeven just for it to go and break the low again without breaking the HOD. That stop sucked but had I not been at my desk I wouldve lost anyways bc we never went down to 5237.
