Day Summary: Today was a difficult day to trade because I wasn't very focused because of Fubo stock !! I was also more focused on trading the challenge account because it expires at the end of this week and I am 66% of the way to passing the account. That being said, I at least was wise enough to trade with the trend and allowed this trade time to work out while managing my risk well for a breakeven day.

TRADES

Trade 1 - Long 1 Contract @ Break & Retest + Key Level + Intuition

Grade: C

- Buying Resistance - not good
- Trading with the trend - good
- Playbooked set up - good
- Managed risk well with a BE stop - good
- overall happy with the management of this trade, but considering it was a C quality set up, it wasn't really worth it
- good job using only 1 contract though because it was a C trade
