Notes / Research / Recap / Additional Video

Need to run to the hospital today pickup bloodwork I did this morning. Don't think it will be too long but I won't be streaming the market open today.

Also I went to a doctor yesterday to do some general tests and overall I am fine but I do need to rest more. I have slightly high blood pressure and that's causing my tight chest causing the heavier breathing you guys have noticed.

I don't think corp taxes bign due Monday helped either. Regardless I'll start taking Friday's off for the forseable future. I'll still probably trade pre-market most Fridays but no streaming and try and only work mornings on anything else.
